SAN DIEGO - January 27, 2021: At the heart of their mission, Statewide Federal Credit Union ($152 million assets; 19,100 members; Flowood, MS) is committed to being one team with their community, members, employees, and vendors alike. After experiencing steady growth over the past few years, Statewide FCU is ready to add a new core processor to their team: Corelation's KeyStone.

"It quickly became clear that Corelation and Statewide Federal Credit Union share the same core values and beliefs, making Corelation a great teammate and the right partner as we look toward the future," explained Statewide Federal Credit Union CEO Casey Bacon. "The reputation and track record of the Corelation leadership team is impeccable and that speaks for itself."

Statewide FCU shared that KeyStone will offer the best overall experience for their members, noting the core processor's modern architecture and ability to adapt to fit the credit union's unique processes as key factors in their decision.

Additional highlights of the KeyStone core identified by Statewide FCU include the built-in relationship manager [KeyInsight], open API [KeyBridge], and ease of access to information that will guide their employees to make the right decisions.

"KeyStone's modern, intuitive user interface will enable our employees to complete their tasks with ease so they can focus on building relationships with our members," remarked Bacon. "As our credit union grows and evolves, we need modern technology that will enable us to provide the best solutions for our members. Statewide FCU looks forward to a long, rewarding partnership with Corelation for many years to come."

Statewide Federal Credit Union is scheduled to convert in February 2022.
